What we talked about:

You have a history of stroke. It is important to develop a stroke prevention plan consisting of medical treatment and lifestyle changes to reduce your chance of another stroke.

What I need to do:

Here are some things I can do to help reduce my risk of stroke:

- Speak with my providers about what risk factors I have for having another stroke.
- Develop a plan to control my risk factors with lifestyle changes and/or medications.
- Inform my family and friends to contact emergency medical services if I am experiencing symptoms of stroke and I am unable to do so.
